Claiming Them One by One

Dr. Torrey in illustrating the definiteness of prayer, tells the following: "Up in a little town in Maine, things were pretty dead some years ago. The churches were not accomplishing anything. There were a few godly men in the churches, and they said, 'Here we are, only uneducated laymen, but something must be done in this town. Let us form a praying band. We will all center our prayers on one man; who shall it be?'"

"They picked out one of the hardest men in town, a hopeless drunkard, and all centered their prayers on him. In a week, he was converted. They centered their prayers on the next hardest man in town, and soon he was converted. Then they took up another and another, until within a year, two or three hundred were brought to Christ, and the fire spread out into the surrounding country. Definite prayer for those in the prison house of sin is the need of the day."

Meant-To and Might-Have-Been

Mr. Meant-To has a comrade, and his name is Didn't Do;
Have you ever chanced to meet them? Did they ever call on you?
These two fellows live together in the house of Never-Win,
And I'm told that it is haunted by the ghost of Might-Have-Been.
