Contenders for our Country

SIGNERS OF THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE

Signer #24: George Clymer
Pennsylvania. Age at signing: 31
Married: Elizabeth (9 children)

Quotes & Notes:

In September, 1777, the British capture of Philadelphia brought further hardship to Clymer. His home was in Chester County, outside Philadelphia, right in the path of the British march. His family managed to escape, but British sympathizers pointed out his house to British troops, "and the British soldiers sacked the house, destroyed the furniture, and wasted every sort of property which they could find." They also surrounded the house of his aunt with intent to destroy it, but spared it when informed it didn't belong to him after all.

His friend Joseph Hopkinson, the son of New Jersey signer Francis Hopkinson, said of him, "His predominant passion was to promote every scheme for the improvement of his country."

His dearest wish, he once said, was for his country to become independent.

One fine thing was said of him: he was never heard to speak ill of anyone.

To live under the American Constitution is the greatest political privilege God ever gave to mankind.
Calvin Coolidge

No matter what other countries say about the United States - immigration is still the sincerest form of flattery.

The greatness of America lies not in being more enlightened than any other nation, but rather in her ability to repair her faults.

Alexis de Tocqueville

I Am Your Flag

I was born on June 14, 1777. I am more than just cloth. I am the refuge of the world's oppressed people. I am the silent sentinel of freedom. I am the inspiration for which American patriots gave their lives and fortunes.

My Red symbolizes the blood spilled in defense of this glorious nation. My White signifies the burning tears shed by Americans who lost their sons. My Blue indicates God's heaven under which I fly. My Stars unify 50 states as one. "Old Glory" is my nickname and proudly I wave on high.

Honor me, respect me, defend me with your lives and your fortunes. Never let my enemies tear me down from my lofty position, lest I never return. Keep alight the fires of patriotism. Worship Eternal God and keep his commandments, and I shall remain the bulwark of peace and freedom for all mankind. I am your flag. - Thomas E Wicks, Sr.
